MILITARY AND POLITICAL LEADERS HOLD MEETINGS

Both Militarists and Non-Militarists Claim Victories

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches.)

While German newspapers report a resumption of the peace negotiations at Brest-Litovsk, official confirmation is lacking. The result of the conferences in Berlin also is uncertain. Both militarist and non-militarist newspapers in Germany claim victory for their respective groups and nothing officially probably will be forthcoming until Imperial Chancellor von Hertling makes his statement before the reichstag main committee on Friday.

It is assumed in London that the hurried meetings of military and political leaders in Berlin did not result in any definite change of peace policy. In some quarters in Germany it is believed the crown councils had more to do with plans for military operations on the western front. German newspapers have heralded a strong attack on this front and it has been declared that the Germans had brought more than 1,000,000 men to France from the eastern front.

In Russia the Bolshevik government is faced with the meeting of the constituent assembly on Friday and with the carrying out of a threat of war made against Rumania, should the Bolshevik ultimatum not be answered satisfactorily. Premier Lenin has demanded that the Rumanians release Bolshevik soldiers now under arrest with the alternative of a rupture of relations and military measures by the Bolsheviks. Rumania is given 24 hours in which to make a satisfactory reply.

Opening of the constituent assembly has been put off from time to time by the Bolsheviks since the elections resulted unfavorably to the Lenin government. Control of the assembly is in the hands of the social revolutionists whose leaders announce that the assembly, if convened, will appeal for an inter-allied conference to discuss an immediate democratic peace on the basis of the statements of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George.

Military operations on the western fronts are confined to the usual raids and artillery duels. East of the Brentha and on the lower Plave the Italians have repulsed Austro-German attempts to recapture the positions taken from them last Monday.

Sinkings by submarines showed a marked decrease from the two previous weeks. Submarines and mines accounted for six vessels of more than 1600 tons and two of less than that tonnage the past week, as compared with 21 ships, including 18 of more than 1600 tons in the reports of both January 9 and January 2. French losses increased from one in the previous week to six, including five of more than 1600 tons, during the week ending January 12.

ALL PACKING PLANTS MAY BE TAKEN OVER BY THE GOVERNMENT

(Associated Press Telegram)

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Fifteen representatives of organized labor, headed by John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, are today on the way to Washington to ask President Wilson to take over and operate all the packing plants in the United States. Departure of the labor leaders was followed by breaking off of negotiations last night looking to settlement of differences between the packers and their employees.

Attempts of John E. Williams, who also is fuel administrator of Illinois, to bring about an understanding between the packers and the workers have proved unavailing. Mr. Williams was appointed mediator some weeks ago, the parties agreeing to his appointment for the period of the war. Each side holds the other responsible for the breaking off of negotiations.

WEATHER INTERFERES.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Bad weather reduced coal movements between the Appalachian mountains and the Mississippi river today to less than at any time within the last week, according to reports reaching the railroad administration.

CENTRAL POWERS GIVE REPLY TO THE PROPOSALS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Berlin, Jan. 17, via London.—An official statement issued here today giving the reply by the central powers to the Russian proposals at Brest-Litovsk on Monday says the Russian proposals concerning the regions occupied by the central powers diverge to such a degree from the views of the central powers that in their present form they are unacceptable.

The official statement says the Russian proposals do not show a compromising attitude and do not consider the opposite parties on a just basis. Nevertheless, it adds, the central powers again are prepared to give a clearly formulated expression of their opinion and to try to find a basis for a compromise.

For the central powers, as distinct from the case with Russia, the announcement adds, a conclusion of peace with Russia has no connection with a general peace and the central powers are compelled to continue the war against their other enemies.

The assertion that the right of self-determination is an attribute of nations and not of parts of nations is not our conception of self-determination, the official statement declares. It must not be assumed that the limits of occupation are standard for fixing the boundaries of such portions.

The Austro-Germans' statement declares do not intend incorporating the territories now occupied by them into their respective countries.

The central powers agreed, it is said, that a vote of the peoples on broad lines be sanctioned on the basis of citizenship, but it was declared that a referendum appeared to be impracticable. The central powers think that a vote on a wide basis taken from the electors and supplemented by a representative body would suffice.

Desiring to reach an understanding with Russia, the statement continues, the central powers made the foregoing far reaching proposals, which represent the most extreme limits within which they still hope to reach a peaceful understanding.

UNIQUE SCHOOL HELD TODAY AT CAMP SHERMAN

Is In Accord With Recommendation Recently Made By General Pershing

PREPARES OFFICERS FOR EXPECTED OPEN WARFARE

School Will Last 4 Months Unless Additional Men Are Drafted

(Associated Press Telegram)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Jan. 17.—Against the possibility of breaking through the German line on the western front in Europe, four hundred Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York officers here are attending what is believed to be the most unique school of its kind in the United States today. So far as is known there is nothing similar to Camp Sherman's "school of the line" which was established in the nature of an experiment to augment the training officers received at the camps last summer and fall.

The school is in accord with the recommendations recently made by General Pershing in which he advised the training of officers for open warfare which many field officers, familiar with the European situation expect when the Germans are finally driven from their trenches. In a sense officers say it is a reversion to the training afforded by the army service schools at Fort Leavenworth which have been closed since the intensive training afforded all over the United States in trench warfare.

Brigadier General W. A. Holbrook, who was connected with the Fort Leavenworth school, is in command of the one here, in addition to commanding the 165th infantry brigade here. The officers, who constitute the surplus of officers sent to Camp Sherman for whom no special duties could be found, are sleeping and eating and training together just as they did at the training camps from which they were graduated. High officers in the Eighty Third division are volunteering their services to lecture to men and to instruct them in branches in which they have had special training.

According to present plans the school will last four months, unless additional troops are drafted in the meantime to require services of the officers. An effort will be made, according to General Holbrook, to give the officers of all branches enough training in branches of the service other than their own to give them an idea of the requirements of all military work.

Enlisted men in the officers' training camp who are studying to win commissions may have the benefit of aeroplane reconnaissance when they are sent to the trenches in a few weeks. The candidates are scheduled for ten days in the trenches, when they will live, eat and sleep there and will have to be on the alert for anything that the troops in the European trenches have to protect themselves against.

Lieutenant Colonel J. G. Hannah, in command of the school, is endeavoring to make arrangements whereby an airplane from the Dayton aviation school will be available for use, when the candidates take their places in the trenches.

To insure the safety of the select pedestrians have been ordered to keep off the main road of the campment. One select was killed by an automobile some time ago and with the heavy snow of the past ten days military authorities are taking every precaution to prevent other men being hurt or killed.

GERMAN SUBMARINE CREWS MUTINY AT KIEL NAVAL BASE

(Associated Press Telegram)

London, Jan. 17.—A mutiny among submarine crews at the German naval base of Kiel on Jan. 7 is reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Geneva. Thirty-eight officers are said to have been killed. The Geneva advices received there from Basel giving details concerning the mutiny. It is said to have been begun by submarine crews and subsequently to have spread to portions of the crews of cruisers stationed at Kiel.

Some of the men who joined in the attack on the officers took part in the earlier mutiny at Kiel, the dispatch reports. It adds:

"Although the mutiny was local, it shows that German naval men are dissatisfied, especially in the submarine service, as the number of boats returning to German ports is decreasing every month."

SIX KILLED AND THREE INJURED ON U. S. S. MICHIGAN

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 17.—Six men were killed and three injured on the U. S. S. Michigan when the ship was caught in a heavy gale at sea. It was officially announced today.

The dead are:
Osborn Capers Belyou, Carl Frederick Marahrens, Clarence Eugene Book, Frank John Prynz and Julian S. Bell, all seamen; and John E. Chico, a fireman.

The injured:
Edward Thomas McDonald, left leg broken; Gordon Solomon Farmer, both arms broken; Virgil V. Biggers, thigh, chest and ankle injured. All the injured were seamen. The men were killed and injured by the falling of a cage mast, the first accident of its kind in the navy. The addresses of the killed were: Belyou, Chibley, Fla.; Marahrens, New York City; Book, Denver, Colo.; Prynz, Cole Camp, Mo.; Bell, Kress, Texas; Chico, Thornwood, N. Y.

Addresses of the injured: McDonald, Bayonne, N. J.; Farmer, Weldon, Ia.; Biggers, Hardy, Ark.

5 FRENCH VESSELS SUNK BY SUBMARINES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Paris, Jan. 17.—Five French merchantmen and more than 1600 tons and one under that tonnage were sunk by submarines or mines during the week ending January 12. Ships entering French port during the week numbered 793, while those clearing were 751. Two vessels were attacked but escaped.

VIOLENT STORMS REACH HOLLAND

(Associated Press Telegram)

Amsterdam, Jan. 17.—Violent storms which recently were prevalent in northern Germany have now reached Holland. Telegraphic and telephone communication with adjacent countries is disrupted considerably and railway and street car traffic is disorganized seriously.

Three hospital ships, bound for England with British wounded, are held up at Rotterdam, while the Holland-America line steamer, Nieuw Amsterdam, is still unable to sail.

ORDER AFFECTS STORES.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 17.—The coal order would prohibit use of coal in stores and mercantile establishments in these terms:
"Wholesale or retail stores or any other stores, business houses or buildings whatsoever, except that for the purpose of selling food only, for which purposes stores may maintain necessary heat until 12 o'clock noon and for the purpose of selling drugs and medical supplies only, stores may maintain necessary heat throughout the day and evening."

This would appear to apply to department stores as well as all others.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Toledo, Jan. 17.—Commerce club and labor union officials here estimate that 50,000 workers will be thrown out of employment during the next five days and for ten Mondays as a result of the fuel conservation order.

While some manufacturers protest, others declare it is a patriotic sacrifice which must be made. Some will pay their men full time. The railways and light company, which supplies electric power for 450 factories, will bank its fires and supply only enough current for operation of the cars and street lights, and for domestic and hotel lighting and power. During night and morning rush hours, the car service will be curtailed. The 150 extra cars usually sent out will remain in the barns.

Officials State Measure Necessary to Meet Country's Fuel Famine and Hurrying on Machinery to Carry Out the Plans

RESOLUTION IS INTRODUCED IN CONGRESS TO SUSPEND ORDER OF FUEL ADMINISTRATOR

Garfield's Effort to Conserve Coal Supply By Closing Down Nation's Industries is Meeting With Strenuous Objections and Senate Promises to Start Immediate Investigation to Determine Its Necessity—Order Does Not Include Natural Gas Or Use of Wood As Fuel, Nor Power Derived From Water

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 17.—The fuel administration's order, proposing to close down industrial activities and business east of the Mississippi for a period of five days to solve the coal shortage today threw congress into an uproar.

Republicans and Democrats alike in both house and senate introduced resolutions to stop it before it could go into effect at midnight.

Fuel Administrator Garfield was summoned before the senate committee investigating the coal situation and asked to explain his reasons and the causes for the order which senators in debate characterized as a mistake, a calamity and most unwise.

From all sections of the country protests poured down upon congressmen and senators and into the White House. The legal experts at the fuel administration were busy during the day preparing the legal text of the order which it was said probably would be more liberal in its exceptions than had been indicated by the official forecast given out last night.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Jan. 17.—Senator Gallinger, Republican leader, introduced a resolution in the senate today, to suspend Fuel Administrator Garfield's order for five days until its necessity is established by investigation. The resolution was prepared after a conference with other Republican leaders who were determined to prevent, if possible, having the coal order go into effect.

Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, also introduced a resolution in the senate to suspend the fuel order for five days. News of the agitation evidently got to the ears of the administration leaders because Fuel Administrator Garfield hurried to the capitol.

Senator Hitchcock introduced his resolution after conferring with other Democratic leaders in the senate who have apprehensions of the wisdom and effect of the order. Senator Hitchcock declared that the coal order was an example of the co-ordination and "reform in our government now running wild."

Senator Hitchcock's resolution read:
"Resolved, That the fuel administration of the United States be hereby requested to delay for five days the order suspending the operation of industrial plants in portions of the United States, in order that protests may be heard, investigation made and information presented."

"I do not presume to say the fuel administrator has made a mistake," said Senator Hitchcock. "All I ask is that sufficient time be given before the order goes into effect to permit the country to be heard."

"The thing he did has been called a national calamity. The fuel administration may be confronted with a serious situation in trying to get coal for the ships we must send across the seas or in maintaining the railroads, but before taking action I think at least this five days should be given."

"The situation," continued Senator Hitchcock, "is an argument for reform in our government. I predict that before much time has elapsed we will be compelled to lodge somewhere absolute power for co-ordination of branches of our government that are now running wild. The various officials and branches of the government are not working harmony or co-ordinating. It is impossible for the president with his manifold duties and enormous tasks to have all the directions. What we need is a war cabinet, below the president and above the cabinet. If we had such a war cabinet this coal order never would have been issued.

Fuel Administrator Garfield was asked today by the senate coal investigation committee to appear at 2:30 o'clock today for examination regarding his order.

Dr. Garfield agreed to go before the committee at once.

Dr. Garfield went before the committee shortly after 2:00 o'clock and told his reasons for issuing the order. The fuel and railroad situation, he said, made the action imperative.

"The purpose of the order," said Mr. Garfield, "is not to interfere in the slightest with the loading of coal at the mines. This is made clear in the amplification of the abstract."

A modification decided on this morning, Dr. Garfield said, put all consumers in the preferential list on an equal basis with no preference shown to any one class.

Dr. Garfield said that the plan was to permit certain war industries to operate despite the order. Shipbuilding, he said, was one of them, but if the industries to be exempted were classified in the order, it would cause a storm of protest and embarrass the fuel administration.

Dr. Garfield said Secretaries Baker and Daniels were preparing such a list.

The list of exempted industries Dr. Garfield said would include those immediately necessary in the conduct of the war. Aside from shipping and airplanes he said, he did not know what the list would contain.

While Dr. Garfield was being examined by the senate coal committee, the senate agreed to postpone further debate on the Hitchcock resolution until 4:00 o'clock.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Jan. 17.—Protests against the fuel administration order closing down industrial plants began pouring in to White House and Congress today from all over the country. Business men everywhere aroused at the prospect objected to its enforcement and suggested many other remedies.

The fuel administration meanwhile hurried on the machinery for carrying out the plan. Fuel Administrator Garfield ordered his general staff and began preparation of the formal order, which it was promised would clear up many points which were indefinite or conflicting in the abstract and statement issued last night.

It developed that the order actually had not been drawn when Mr. Garfield made his announcement and when the fuel administration issued an abstract of what it was expected to be. It was said that the full text of the order could not be prepared in time to be given out much before this afternoon and there was some doubt as to whether its text would be ready for publication in evening papers today.

It developed today that under the fuel administration's plan the government will buy all coal consigned to the suspended industries. These transactions will be conducted through the treasury department and it is estimated will cost the government about $25,000,000. State fuel administrators will redistribute the coal to food plants and other industries permitted to run.

The fuel administration will issue a series of rulings on queries concerning the conservation order. State fuel administrators will not be allowed to make rulings and the rulings issued here will have general application.

The order will not include natural gas or use of wood as fuel, nor power derived from water. It is said that the exception of necessary war industries from the operation of the order might be more liberal than first announcements indicated.

To clear up the congestion of shipping at principal Atlantic ports, resulting from the famine of bunker coal, Fuel Administrator Garfield has selected a special assistant to take charge of the bunkering at the ports. The coal is assured by the fuel administration's order.

A series of rulings or interpretations to be issued in connection with the order is expected to make the situation more clear.

Under a provision which it was decided this morning to insert in the order the government will become the purchaser of virtually all coal produced in the five day closing period. Mines producing coal under contract to industries which will be closed down will be directed to turn their output over to the state fuel administrators under bill of lading attached. The treasury department will set aside $25,000,000 for the purchase of this coal.

Coal in transit to industry which will be closed will not be purchased by the government but merely will be diverted by state fuel administrators and turned over to consumers who come within the preferential list. The coal will be paid for by the ultimate consignee who will remit directly to the mines in which the coal originates.

The rulings to be issued in connection with the order will be general in scope. Fuel administrator Garfield has reserved to himself the power to make interpretations and state fuel administrators will be permitted to make only special rulings to fit cases of the gravest emergency. These will be subject to review by the fuel administration.

Protests began to pour into the fuel administrator's office early this morning.

"What we have done," said Dr. Garfield, "I know will raise a storm of objection throughout the country but the people will see that the order was wise and was necessary."

Instructions covering the main points of the order went out early this morning to all state fuel administrators in the east.

Other departments of the government regarded the fuel order with varying attitudes. The war and navy departments, however, had been consulted and were in accord. While it was felt that some order was necessary to meet the situation some better effect might have been obtained by means less drastic in effect to the country's economical fabric.

Some confusion was evidenced in the result expected on the government's war program. The Council of National Defense was anxious over whether cloth factories supplying the government with material for uniforms and overcoats would have to shut down.

If factories supply materials essential to the war program are closed down, the result will be very detrimental," said Charles E. Eisman, vice-chairman of the supplies committee.

Aroused and fearful of the fuel administration's order to suspend operation of industrial plants to meet the coal situation, republican and democratic leaders in the senate today introduced resolutions to suspend it.

Senator Hitchcock, a democratic leader, moved to suspend the order for five days pending investigation. He acted after conferring with other democratic leaders.

Senator Gallinger, the republican leader, after conferring with others of his party, introduced a resolution to suspend the order altogether until its necessity had been proved by investigation.

Protests from small sections of the country poured into the White House and into congress in great numbers. Meanwhile, the fuel administration made preparations to carry the order into effect at midnight. Legal experts worked on the phrasing of the order and there were indications that it might be more liberal in its exceptions than was indicated in the official forecast last night.

Senator Reed said he would ask the senate to postpone action on the Hitchcock resolution until his committee had heard Dr. Garfield.

Senator Vargman, another member of the committee, asked Senator Reed to do this.

"It is unfair to Garfield," he said, "to pass this resolution without giving him an opportunity to explain his reasons for the order."

Senator Gallinger's resolution follows:

"Whereas, through the newspaper press it has been brought to the attention of the congress and the country that an order has been issued by the fuel administrator providing for the closing down of a large proportion of our industrial establishments and,

"Whereas, on information already received it would seem to be of serious doubt whether such an order would not prove highly detrimental to both the industrial and labor interests of the United States therefore be it:

"Resolved, that it is the sense of the senate that such order should be suspended until a thorough investigation shall be made as to the necessity for the proposed action."

The fuel order does not apply to oil wells, gas wells or oil refineries.

COLUMBIA FUEL COMMITTEES INSTRUCTED TO ENFORCE ORDER BY ADMINISTRATOR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Columbus, Jan. 17.—State officials and labor and industrial leaders were taken completely by surprise by the order of the federal fuel administrator halting business beginning tomorrow. Uncertainty was marked on every hand.

Governor Cox early said he would make no statement relative to the order in view of the president's position approving the step.

At the state fuel administration's office where telegraph and telephone messages poured in throughout the day, it was announced that the order will be followed to the letter, but that further particulars from Washington are awaited before any definite step is taken. Callers at the office were informed that a conference was in progress until mid-afternoon.

The first step by the state administration was preparation of instructions to govern county fuel committees organized and directed through the state administration. County committees were told to enforce the order. Immediate reports of violations must be made, these to be sent immediately to Washington. Assistant State Fuel Administrator E. D. Leach declared violators would be denied coal the remainder of the winter, their supply to be diverted under direction of the state administration.

An immediate call was sent to railroads for reports of coal tied up and of coal which may be diverted from those industries affected by the order. J. B. Dugan, chief inspector of the utilities commission, declared there are no less than 10,000 cars on Ohio sidetracks.

The general attitude about the statehouse as well as in business circles was one of confusion, although there was every indication that fullest co-operation in furthering the desires of the federal government would be forthcoming.

The attitude of Governor Cox throughout the fuel shortage situation has been to criticize the methods employed by Administrator Garfield, but neither he or other state officials would express their views. Governor Cox received messages from Ohio congressmen asking for views, but declined to make public the nature of his replies.

Reports from various cities in the state indicate that the uncertainties obtaining here are common elsewhere. Commercial and industrial organizations in many places were in conferences during the morning in efforts to reach definite conclusions as to the scope of the order. This also was indicated in the many messages to the state fuel administration.

No attempt at a definite estimate of the effect of the order was made by the state industrial department, but the statistical bureau made a rough estimate that more than a million workers will be directly affected. Nearly 9000 industrial plants come within the provisions of the order requiring suspension of business for five days. These employ nearly 800,000 workers whose average daily wage is two million dollars. Today's reports here did not indicate whether the plants will pay employees during the lull.

The state fuel administration issued a sweeping order for all county committees today to require the closing of all stores in cities of less than 5000 population at 6 o'clock each day except Saturday. Closing in larger cities is regulated by law. According to Assistant Administrator Leach, no difficulty will be met in having the order observed as in most instances the merchants are willing but do not want to take the initiative.

Among complaints heard at the state administration office is one relating to closing of office buildings. The order permits doctors, dentists and bankers to keep offices open and building managers say that all offices might as well be kept open so far as use of heat is concerned. Many industries also declare the closing will mean freezing of their sprinkling system. They say if plants are to be kept heated to prevent this, work might as well go on.

In response to many inquiries regarding his attitude toward yesterday's order by the federal fuel administration, Governor James M. Cox today issued the following statement:

"I shall accept the judgment and order of the president of the United States without question. I would prefer, however, not to discuss whether the present fuel proclamation is as feasible or otherwise."

Approximately 150 of the leading business men of Columbus today met at the chamber of commerce to discuss the order of the fuel administration. After the meeting it was said the general consensus of opinion was that the business men would stand back of the government, but that they had little conception of the details of the order.

ORDER EXCEPTS ONLY INDUSTRIES PRODUCING NECESSARY FOODSTUFFS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Jan. 17.—Suspension of America's manufacturing industry, east of the Mississippi and in Louisiana and Minnesota for a period of five days, beginning tomorrow, was decreed by the fuel administration in an order issued today designed to relieve the serious coal shortage. The order even includes munitions plants and excepts only industries producing food and those requiring continuous operation to maintain their business.

A preferential list of consumers of coal in whose interest the order was drawn is prescribed, including railroads, householders, hospitals, charitable institutions, army and navy cantonments, public utilities, strictly government enterprises, public buildings and food manufacturing.

As a means of additional relief the order provides that industry and business activity generally, including schools, stores, saloons, theaters and office buildings shall observe holiday, or Sunday conditions, each Monday thereafter for 10 weeks. Even street car lines will be put on a Sunday basis on Mondays, beginning January 21, and up to and including March 25.

Daily newspapers may burn fuel as usual, excepting on Mondays, from January 21 to March 25, inclusive. On such days they may burn fuel to such extent as is necessary to issue such editions as they customarily issue on important national legal holidays. When a newspaper does not customarily issue any edition at all on such a holiday it may issue one edition on these specified Mondays. Stores selling drugs will be allowed to remain open as usual. State fuel administrators in whose hands the execution of the order is placed may close banks and trust companies if they think necessary.

While the order does not mention shipyards it is known that they will be permitted to continue operations. This exception was made because of the great need for vessels to move supplies ready for shipment overseas.

The fuel administration's move came entirely without warning after the stringent measure submitted by Administrator Garfield had been approved by President Wilson. It was decided upon hurriedly by the president and executive heads as a necessary remedy for the food and fuel situation in the eastern states.

Inclusion of munition plants in the order came as a surprise, but officials said that war plants have been producing more material than the railroads could handle, and war supplies also have been moved to points of shipment faster than they could be transported overseas with shipping tied up for lack of bunker coal. Exceptions made of plants requiring continuous heat to maintain their efficiency led to the belief today that steel mills and blast furnaces might be permitted to use fuel during the five-day period. Fuel officials declined, however, to interpret various phases of the order

VANDERLIP ON THRIFT.

The grave danger of misunderstanding the government's position on the question of thrift and saving was brought clearly to the front on Tuesday last, when before a gathering of bankers Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank and chairman of the War Savings Stamps committee, pointed out that the government plan was not to depress trade, but rather to have men and industries join the government in the trend towards business readjustment.

"The objection to the campaign of economy, which we are endeavoring to conduct through the thrift and war savings movement, usually manifests itself among people who fear it is going to disrupt business," said Vanderlip.

"I saw a graphic outline of the growth of domestic business. It showed domestic business of $30,000,000 during the year before the war and $62,000,000 for the year just closed. Railroads were flooded with more business than they could do. Now, in my mind the tragedy of the situation lies not in the fact that we are going to disrupt business, for we are not, but that we are not going to get this propaganda of saving into the minds and souls of the people sufficiently to make them realize that they have other things to consider than their own private or immediate interests. "Business will flourish as much as ever. You need not have any fear on that score. The problem before us is to make the people of the country realize that it is no longer a question of what the individual can afford. It is a question of what the nation can afford."

Declaring that the criticism of the government methods was entirely beside the point, inasmuch as the government was doing as well as it could under the circumstances, Mr. Vanderlip said:

"Until we cease to think that in encouraging saving among the people we are doing something that will interfere with business, we are not doing anything to win the war. When you extend loans for the prosecution of nonessential enterprises you are contributing in no way to the winning of the war. Don't be afraid that you will wreck business. Business men engaged in nonessentials ought to have your judgment as to what to do, and ought to be wide awake as to how to convert their enterprises into more essential enterprises."

One of the misunderstandings which is caused much criticism is the preaching of some of the so-called economists advocating money hoarding, which is totally different to thrift and economy.

THE CAUSE OF WAR.

Religion has not prevented war because it has had no chance either to prevent it or to stop it. The force behind this war, the desire for dynastic supremacy, the desire to dominate by slaughter and terrorism, the greed for iron mines, sea-ports and colonies, lie beyond the reach of religious influences. They are unquenchably pagan. They belong not to our modern civilization of altruism, but to the times of Alexander and Celsibazzar. This is no people's war, and in its inception it is no part of the twentieth century. Our nation with the others has seen fit to meet force with counter force. Whatever the outcome, there is a vast moral difference between war for prestige and conquests, and war for defense with no hope of gain. The motives of the allied nations, as a whole, have been primarily unselfish, whatever may be said of individuals within their ranks. They accord with the ancient maxim of the Puritans: "Opposition to tyrants is obedience to God."

It is my firm belief that the root of international war is found in the dynastic system of natural organization. To center all power in the hands of one man puts the people at the mercy of the oligarchy of parasites and satellites which surround the autocrat and which must always constitute "the power behind the throne." On this group of self-seekers and intriguers religion can make no impression. They are ready enough at lip-service and its varied forms of blasphemy. But religion can be effective only as it replaces lip-service by realities. The people have been nothing; they must be everything; and democracy is the political expression of the Beatitudes.

Everywhere the power of Christian altruism is felt. Scarcely a living soul lies wholly outside its influence. It has spread the feeling of love and sympathy and justice throughout the world, even though it has not made these virtues universal. The privilege-haunted royal courts are the last places to be reached, and in these is the seat of war—Prof David Starr Jordan, in The Christian Herald.

The people who complain most because of delays to passenger trains, are usually the same ones who find fault most loudly when freight is so held up by passenger trains that the government can't deliver war supplies.

The people who kick the hardest about our war debt of $5,000,000,000, would also squeal the loudest over an indemnity of $50,000,000,000 if we had to pay it as the result of waiting until we were attacked.

The people who are kicking about the slow progress of our 10,000 airplane fleet, include many of the same ones who were scandalized a few years ago by the extravagant idea that congress buy 100 of them.

Some of the people who are kicking the hardest on the fuel shortage are the same ones who opposed daylight-saving and thus helped consume great quantities of coal for lighting.

The report that the sale of wood? saws has increased in these hard times, will probably be followed by another that the sale of drugs to promote digestion has decreased.

The government is asking the people to eat potatoes every day. The only difficulty in popularizing potatoes is that they are selling for a comparatively moderate price.

Some of these men who think the boys could march directly on the trenches always step one side when they see a booth for Red Cross or Y. M. C. A. contributions.

If our friend, Kaiser Bill, the peace-lover, doesn't succeed in ending the war pretty soon, he won't be able to steal any more territory during his whole lifetime.

It is denied that the congressmen will seek railroad jobs for their political friends, as the latter don't want positions where there is real work to be done.

When a man circulates improbable stories about war conditions, ask him whether he is a paid spy or an unpaid chump who serves the spy's purpose.

Glimmerings are beginning to penetrate the minds of the Russian Bolsheviks, that the German moon is not made of green cheese.

Our noble ally, France, is nearly out of wheat, and yet many of our people have to be fed their wheat bread at 21 meals a week.

The Germans who gloated so over bombing London are terribly shocked over the report that the Americans will bomb their cities.

Spirit of the Press

Congressman Johnson, Private.
Washington regrets the departure of Representative Royal C. Johnson of South Dakota, who has resigned his House seat to enlist as a private in the Regular army. At the same time it applauds his patriotic spirit that has led him to relinquish the comforts, dignities and honors of a legislative chair for the hardships and trials and dangers of a soldier's life. It is of this stuff that are made the men who are going to carry our flag over the top to victory in Europe. It is a misfortune that so helpful a representative of the local community should be called to other fields, though the district is proud to send one of its adopted sons to the front along with its own sons.—Washington Star.

A Coal Budget Plan.
It is gratifying that the fuel administration has arranged with the manufacturers of the country a "coal budget plan," which it is estimated, will save 50,000,000 tons this year, the exact shortage that has been threatened. The plan of arbitrary classification of industries into essential and nonessential divisions has been abandoned. Voluntary curtailment, enforced by the fuel administration, has been substituted. There is elasticity in the plan, to meet new needs, and it is not impossible that some "nonessential" industries may suspend before the close of the year, but this can be done in such a gradual manner as to place all employees in essential industries.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The President's Peace Demarcation.
The test of the President's statement of war aims will be found in its efforts on public sentiment in Russia, and more particularly on public sentiment in Germany. It is true that Germany would have to give up all of her conquests of this war, and some of the conquests of other wars. But on the other hand Mr. Wilson comes out in very loud terms for that policy of "freedom of the seas," which the leaders of the German war party claim to hold so dear. He also makes it plain that the United States will have no hand in any tariff war against Germany after the conflict of arms is at an end.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Self-Condemed.
Germany is trying to find excuses for firing on hospital ships. No pretensions of mistakes or of innumerable, wilful, cowardly, unnameable crimes, which she has committed against the wounded, the weak, the unarmed and innocent men, women and children of every nation under the sun—including Germany herself. And, though the nations might forgive her, the law of retribution will exact life for life, measure for measure.—Los Angeles Times.

Speed of Pitcher.
A pitched baseball was recently timed, and it took 0.238 second to reach from the pitcher's hand to the batter. The ball thus traveled at a speed of 210 feet a second, or 2.25 miles a minute. It required 0.796 second to throw a ball from the catcher to second base; a distance of 129 feet. Little wonder that bases are so difficult to steal!—Youth's Companion.

NUX, IRON, PEPSIN AND SARSAPARILLA

The combination of two great medicines, Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pepsin, by taking them in conjunction, one before eating and the other after, brings into co-operation the above-named substances, best for the blood, nerves and digestive organs.

This combination is especially recommended in cases that are scrofulous, or rheumatic, anemic and nervous, or where the blood is both impure and pale, deficient in iron—one of the most common disease conditions of the present day.

In cases where a laxative is needed, Hood's Pills should be taken. They work in perfect harmony with Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pepsin, and are mild and efficient.—Advertisement.

WORK FOR FIRING SQUAD.

(Pittsburgh Gazette Times.)
No more impressive incident occurred in the early days of the war than the execution of Hans Lody, German spy, in the Tower of London. It was the first of many cases of espionage dealt with by the British in 1914 and 1915. It sent a shudder around the world. But it was effective, and that is the purpose of such punishment. England's spy troubles diminished as she proceeded to apply the terrible remedy. If shooting spies did not bring her complete immunity from their efforts, it did establish a greater measure of security against the lowest and most insidious order of enemy activity.

We need to shoot some spies. Not that Americans are bloodthirsty. They are not. But our country is overrun with German agents bent on doing us injury. Some must be made examples of, to deter the others from pursuing their criminal work. We have been so lenient with enemy aliens, some of whom have been proven to be active enemies, that hundreds have been willing to take the risk of short terms of imprisonment to carry on the Kaiser's dirty work. Most of them would engage in safer employments if the sure penalty of being caught were death. But they do not expect the easy-going and merciful Americans to take the life of a spy. None has been taken. It is time some were. In the case of the German caught at Norfolk after attempting to set fire to a magazine there appears to be no room to doubt that he was a spy of most dangerous character. If no mistake has been made, he would be a good one with whom to begin the rational and safe policy of shooting all spies.

If the government does not impose the maximum punishment for espionage it will not only become responsible for loss of lives and property resulting from spy activities but it will be blamable for executions without color of justice at the hands of mobs. The lynching of a German near Yuma, Ariz., may be but the beginning of a long series of mob actions, which the country could be no excuse if the people were assured the authorities would mete out punishment to spies in accordance with their deserts.

AUGUSTUS PEABODY GARDNER.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
For fourteen years Augustus Peabody Gardner served Massachusetts as representative in congress. He was not a silent congressman. He talked much, and by some he was considered too vocal. The major burden of his talk was military preparedness. It was an annoying topic. The United States had no intention of fighting anyone or anything. Why persist in talking about war?

When war came Congressman Gardner did not pause long enough to remark "I told you so." With admirable consistency he resigned his congressional seat and tendered his services to the secretary of war. Given a colonel's commission and assigned to staff duty, he requested a reduction in rank and a place in the line so that he might see actual fighting in France. His request was granted, and as major of the 121st infantry he took an active part in the work of training at Fort Wheeler. His death from pneumonia contracted in active service ends the career of an admirable American whose consistency was a conspicuous virtue.

Most Americans remember the not remote past when Congressman Gardner, frequently derided as "Gussie," was considered somewhat of a crank, somewhat of a nuisance, and very much of a bore. Those who then joined in the common appraisal are today ready to admit that the vision of Augustus P. Gardner was clear and prophetic. This justice is due the memory of a good citizen who has died in the service of his country.

RUSSIA'S DEBT.

(Philadelphia Record.)
It is rather curious that the report from Petrograd that the Bolsheviks' Government intended to repudiate Russia's debt should have caused a 10-point drop in the quotations of Russian bonds traded in this country. This seems to indicate that among timid holders of these securities there is a genuine belief that Lenin, Trotsky & Co. can carry out such a shameless policy of dishonor, if they really have planned it. A moment's consideration should convince these persons that such wholesale repudiation is most unlikely. In the first place, the rule of the Bolsheviks is by no means stable, and it may be overthrown any day. It will then be as easy for a more honorable government to pledge itself to the payment of the bonds as it is for the misfits now in power to discredit it now. Even in such a chaotic country as Russia it is impossible to believe that a few men would be permitted to carry out such a disastrous policy. The consent of some representative body, such as the Constituent Assembly, would be required to put this final stamp of dishonor upon the downward course of the revolution.

No great country has ever repudiated its honest debts, for very obvious reasons. Such a procedure would so completely annihilate its credit and prestige that its economic life would be almost destroyed. Revolutionary France did not repudiate the debts of the Bourbon Monarchy after the upheaval of 1793. Even Mexico has not cast off the indebtedness created by Diaz. Russia cannot toss aside its debts like an old glove and expect to have any future standing in a world where honesty is still the rule. The Bolsheviks may decree repudiation, but the sober sense of the Russian people will not indorse that act. They can hardly be ready yet to become outlaws among the nations of the globe.

FRIGHTFULNESS NOT "MADE IN GERMANY"

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Karicofe, 75-1-2 East Main street, are in receipt of a letter, dated December 1, from their son, Harrison Matthews, who left Newark eight months ago for Canada and enlisted in a Canadian regiment. At the time of writing he was stationed in a dugout under the ruins of a church "somewhere in France." He is a piper in the 48th Canadian Highlanders, and says that there is no chance for him to be run out for practicing in the dugout. In fact, he says that if he does not practice he will be put out, and that means the trench, consequently he is practicing "to beat the band." They expect to be moved from their present quarters soon, and they are all in hopes that their new place will be as quiet as their place is now. He states that it has been very cold, but that the weather has been exceptionally good.

Eight months ago he enlisted as a piper in Canada and after three months' training he was sent to France where he has been for the past five months. His present address is: Piper Harrison Matthews, 1,454,323,48 Highlanders, 15 Canadian Bn., B. E. S. France.

FOR THE SOLDIERS

Button and Sewing Bag Suggested as Suitable Gift.

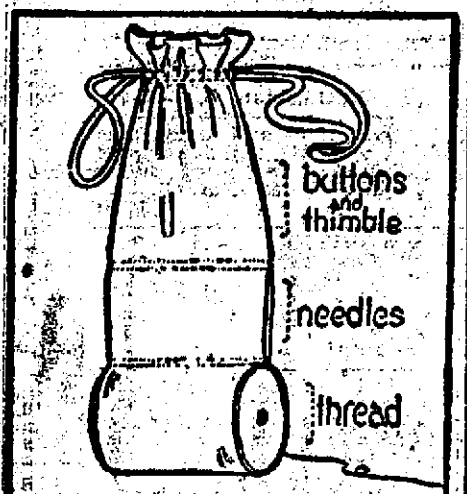

Monograms or Initials May Be Embroidered on Outside of Needle Case if Desired.

A button and sewing bag has been suggested as a very suitable gift for the soldier boys in France or in the home-training camps. The directions for making such a bag are given as follows:

Use khaki cloth or brown ribbon one-half yard long, and as wide as a spool of linen thread (first hemming or binding the edges on the length).

Make a loop of ribbon, leaving unhemmed edges at top. Place spool in loop and sew across at top (or cross stitch or binding could be used), thread pulling out at one side.

Next place paper of needles above spool and sew at top, leaving it loose

Button and Sewing Bag.

enough for the needle case to be slipped in and out easily.

Sew up both side edges above to form a button bag, turn down hem at top and run in red, white and blue ribbon, leaving long loops to hang up by, or to roll up and tie.

Monograms or initials may be embroidered on outside of needle case before the bag is finished.

Round pinballs may be made to fit each end of spool, filled with pins; a hole bored in center of each and loops or bows of ribbon attached, letting the ribbon go through spool and fastening tightly to hold pinballs in place.

Also a row of safety pins could be inserted just as the needles were, but extra length must be added before you start to work.

These are very pretty made of fancy ribbon, using French knots or cross-stitching, bows, etc.

FRESH AIR GOOD FOR FACE

Idea That Skin Should Be Protected by Thick Veils in Winter Is Declared Mistaken One.

It is a mistaken idea that bundling up to the eyes and covering the face with thick veils protects the skin in the winter, says a writer in Farm and Fireside. The more the face is exposed to the fresh air the better it will be for the complexion, and there is nothing more invigorating and beneficial than a brisk walk during a snow flurry. Never carry an umbrella when it is snowing. The best kind of water to wash your face in is soft rain water, and as snow is only frozen water, there is surely no reason why it should be injurious to the skin.

Do not wash your face before going out into the open air, but if cleansing is necessary, apply cold cream and rub it well into the pores, afterward wiping the face well with a soft towel. Cleanse the face with cold cream and a good massage cream at least once a week, and apply a lotion to the face, hands and lips every night before retiring. The lips are more susceptible to cold and chapped more easily than any other part of the face.

SIZES OF HOUSEHOLD LINENS

Cut and Dried Rules Exist for Guidance of Housewife Who Makes Own Sheets and Pillow Cases.

Many women make their own household linens, especially bed linens, preferring to buy their material by the yard and seam it up into bed size. Better material can thus be afforded for the same outlay of money. There are some things which the housewife who makes her own sheets and pillow cases ought to know. First, that a sheet should be 30 inches wider than the mattress and from 20 to 30 inches longer. This allows for a comfortable tucking in all around. Sheet hems should be 3 inches wide at the top and 1 at the bottom. Pillow cases are one yard long and 1½ inches wider than the pillow. Hems of pillow cases should be 2 to 2½ inches deep. Central seams in a pillow case should be finished with a flat hem on the right side. This kind of a hem not only looks better, but wears and irons better than a French seam.

Table linen has a more or less cut and dried rule for size, too. A cloth should hang not more than 18 inches at the sides. Dinner-size napkins run about 27 by 27 inches. Breakfast or informal meals require a 22-inch cloth, and luncheon napkins vary from 12 to 15 inches square.

In towels a certain amount of labor is saved if a scale of sizes is followed. Thus for guest towels it is well to know that the standard size is about 35 or 16 by 24 inches; face towels, 22 or 24 by 40 inches; bath towels (Turkish), 22 or 24 by 24 inches.

The love of money is the root of all evil, and how we all hate evil!

The Sick

Mrs. C. E. McDaniels and father, who have been seriously ill at the home of Mrs. McDaniels in North Park Place, are rapidly recovering.

Mrs. Atta F. Shank of St. Louis, is seriously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kinison, Oregon avenue, Columbus, where she was visiting. Her son, Ben Shank, an employee of the Newark Telephone company, was called to Columbus today.

Mrs. Emma Wright was removed from her home in Granville today to the City Hospital in the Bazler ambulance.

A. G. Woodward, who was taken from the home of his sister, Mrs. J. B. Lentz in Curtis avenue, Monday, and removed to the City Hospital, is reported today as being slightly improved.

5125 NEWARK WOMEN SIGNED FOOD PLEDGE CARDS

Mr. William M. Morgan, chairman of the food conservation committee for Licking county, reported this morning that reports just submitted by Mrs. Henry S. Fleck show that 5125 food conservation cards were signed by Newark housekeepers. The solicitation was done by Newark women under the direction of Mrs. Fleck and Mrs. E. T. Johnson. The solicitors reported that in numerous instances they did not find the housekeepers at home and for the benefit of those who were not seen cards for signature have been left at the Y. M. C. A. building. Women are asked to stop there and sign cards pledging their support in the food conservation movement.

Newark township reports signatures from 93 per cent of the women of that township, while Licking, St. Albans, Johnstown and Alexandria report a record of 35 per cent. Some of the reports from the rural sections are incomplete as yet.

Nelson Morris reports that the conservation campaign in New York City has reduced the meat consumption there 25 per cent.

W. C. Kuster said this morning that since he has been observing Wheatless Wednesdays in his restaurant he is saving not less than 12 barrels of flour each week.

Club Exercises.

Indian clubs are inexpensive, require no special ropes of fasteners, can be kept at hand for use at any time, can be easily carried when traveling and are one of the best means of exercising for beauty and health.

Get a pair of clubs weighing not more than two pounds and commence by exercising thoroughly with one club at a time. Stand erect, with chest thrown out, feet flat on the floor and slightly separated and grasp the handles of the clubs close to the ball, giving full play to the wrists and endeavor to attain an easy and graceful style.

Standing as described, clubs held at sides, begin by elevating the left hand until it touches a little above the head, then drop the club and allow it to describe a circle at the back, give it a twirl, and the momentum of its weight will carry it around. At the completion of the circle, give the wrist a twirl, and bring it over the shoulder, resuming the first position and bringing the club in front of the breast.

The next exercise is principally intended to overcome the stiff and awkward condition of the wrists. Stand with clubs held at the sides, the arms are raised and extended outwardly in front of the breast as far as possible, arms crossed, and palms turned outward. Raise the clubs slowly to arms length, letting them hang over the shoulders. This is a simple and light exercise, and is of great benefit in strengthening and developing wrists, arms, neck and shoulders.

Our Boys and Girls

For the lingerie coat for a very small baby, punch work would probably be too elaborate, but for the little two year old and upward, a lingerie coat, embroidered in punchwork, is very desirable. The design used must not be very large. Clover leaves are about the right size and, for the child who is somewhat older, flowers as large as wild roses or dogwood blossoms may be used.

The leaves, too, may be done in punchwork, although, some might consider this loaf punchwork, together with the flowers, too ornamental for little people. When the little batiste coat has under it, its padded lining of colored silk, the effect is charming. The lining must be of only one of three colors, white, pink or blue. Other colors would not be suitable for baby. The edge and hem of the coat may be either hemstitched or scalloped and worked in buttonhole stitch.

Cotton poplin is splendid wearing material for the first short dresses and launders' beautifully. White linen, of an even thread, and very fine white pique are very practical for the first boyish dresses. The box plaited dress has long been a favorite and is closely rivaled by the Russian blouse style.

Wall Street.
Associated Press Telegram
New York, Jan. 17.—Trading quiet on the rebound, with a firm undertone. Assurance that the exchange would hold regular sessions as long as the banks and other financial institutions continued their daily operations were most effective in re-establishing confidence. Rallies of 1 to 2 1/2 points included steel, copper and equipment, also auto and more vigorous buying movement was in progress, which only effaced virtually all losses of the opening but played a number of stocks well above yesterday's final prices. Liberty second is left to the new low record of 96.08, the first is selling at 97.02 to 97 and the 3 1/2s at 95.60 to 95.52.
The order of the fuel administration directing temporary suspension of industrial activity caused severe reactions at the opening of today's market. The shares most affected were those of companies which are likely to suffer severe curtailment as a result of the new regulations.
Steel, copper and allied issues broke 1 to 2 points and specialties including motors 2 to 4 points. Rails were relatively steady, reactions in investment issues averaging no more than a point. The selling pressure relaxed after the first 15 minutes and the end of the first half hour most losses were largely restored. Liberty bonds eased slightly.

Chicago Grain.
Associated Press Telegram
Chicago, Jan. 17.—Government coal saving orders tended slightly today to ease down the corn market. Opening prices, which ranged from unchanged figures to 3c lower with January at 1.24 and May 1.24 to 1.24 1/2, were followed by a little reaction in some cases.
The close was steady at the same as yesterday's final, with higher with Jan. 1.27 1/2 and May 1.24 1/2.
Oats were governed by the same condition as corn.
Higher prices on hogs gave firmness to provisions. Arrivals of hogs were less numerous than had been expected. Subsequently the market was upheld by the likelihood of a better shipping inquiry as soon as railway congestion could be diminished.

PROTESTS AGAINST DRASTIC MANDATE

while working hardships on thousands, would be worth the sacrifice. To outline a course of action, Albert H. Wiggin, state fuel administrator, called a conference this morning with city and county administrators and leading coal dealers.
"It's up to us to carry out orders," said Reeve Schley, fuel administrator for New York county.
Industrial statisticians said approximately 3,000,000 wage-earners in New York state would be affected by the temporary shutdown of industry. Of this number, more than 1,000,000 live and work in this city. The wage loss for the 15 days according to conservative unofficial estimates, will be $102,528,150.
Many large establishments, it is said, are preparing to pay their employees full, or in part, as a patriotic effort. Small industries, unable to carry their employees on the payroll during idleness will be forced to bear the brunt of the burden here.
Officials of various trade unions have issued hurry calls for emergency meetings throughout the state to consider ways and means for the relief of members who may be left without funds. Some concern is expressed for the thousands of women needle-workers in this city, who are paid only for the labor actually performed.
Dr. Garfield's order came at a time when New York's coal supply was dwindling steadily and on a day when the daily receipts were far below normal. Only 23,600 tons were received yesterday. However, improvement was expected today, with the report from H. Smith, director of eastern railroads, that 356,000 tons were at tidewater.
With fair weather and a diminution of the ice menace in the harbor, fuel administrators and transportation officials anticipated much larger coal deliveries in the next few days.
The situation, as regards shipping, is still considered acute. Only nine steamships were loaded yesterday, while it is reported that 217 steamers have been waiting for coal here for more than 10 days.

GARFIELD'S ORDER EFFECTS NEARLY 400,000 IN CHICAGO
(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Jan. 17.—Nearly 400,000 workers in the Chicago industrial district, it was estimated today by statisticians, are affected by the order of the national fuel administrator, operative for five days tomorrow. This number will be largely augmented on the 10 holiday Monday, when employees of stores, theaters and other business concerns. The number of manufacturing plants in the Chicago district which will shut down, in compliance with the order to conserve coal, is approximately 8557. Besides the city the Chicago district includes outlying townships in Cook county and Calumet and northern Indiana, where great steel plants are located.
The order forestalled a plan which the state fuel administration was to announce today, making the Saturdays and Mondays of the next two weeks holidays. It was believed by the local fuel administration officials that four days' lapse in business would have been sufficient for Illinois, which has a fuel shortage of about 500,000 tons.
"The fuel emergency in Illinois is not quite as critical as would warrant this order," State Fuel Administrator John E. Williams said. "I hope it can be modified to four days, and I believe that would cover the state's actual needs."
Outside of the Chicago district, it is estimated, more than 3000 plants, employing approximately 1,500,000 men throughout the state, will be closed by the order.
Opinions of the effectiveness of the order differed among heads of large concerns, some believing that it was too drastic, while others said that if the situation was critical as indicated, even this action was warranted.
Heads of several large industrial corporations, expressed individual opinions that employees should be paid during their enforced idleness, but others preferred to await developments before expressing an opinion.
When news of the order reached Chicago yesterday more than 100 of the city's leading manufacturers and business men were in attendance at a meeting where State Fuel Administrator Williams presided.
The following resolution, proposed by Samuel Hastings, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, was unanimously adopted, and ordered sent to Washington.
"We express our regret of the necessity of this action and respectfully extend our cheerful co-operation and whole-hearted compliance as a patriotic duty."

BOSTON BUSINESS MEN COMMENT ON ORDER FOR COAL CONSERVATION
(Associated Press Telegram)
Boston, Jan. 17.—Many business and labor leaders commenting today on the fuel administration's order for coal conservation declared the situation did not seem to them to demand the hardships which they pointed out would follow the five-day closing of industrial plants. Thomas F. Anderson, secretary of the New England Shoe and Leather Association, said:
"Over 100,000 workers will be affected in the shoe shops alone, while in the allied industries another 50,000 will be forced into an idleness they can ill-afford at this time. More than 50 per cent of the shoes in the United States are made in this vicinity, and the loss in wages will be hard to estimate. The situation is much more serious on account of the apparent lack of necessity for such action."
Herman M. C. Comberford, president of the Massachusetts State Branch of Engineers, said:
"Our members have bought Liberty bonds, and our sons have enlisted in the army and navy of the United States to protect the country; how are we to keep paying for those bonds and continue to subscribe for war funds if they are going to take away a large percentage of our earnings. We feel that incompetent men are handling the fuel situation, and in the interests of the country and our families we demand that these incompetents be removed and their places filled by competent and practical men who understand the coal and transportation system."

Frederick C. Hood, general manager of the Hood Rubber company, declared:
"The order is nothing short of a calamity. Of course this is war and we must obey. Still it appears that we are receiving arbitrary orders from persons who have not studied all issues."

GARFIELD'S REASONS FOR ISSUING ORDER.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Jan. 17.—"This order was issued because of a lack of coal for private consumers and utilities," said Dr. Garfield. "This was not caused by lack of production, but as we all know, by conditions we have faced since December 8."
The fuel administrator evidently referred to weather conditions.
"The purpose of the order is not to interfere with loading cars with coal and sending them forward," he continued. "We do not interfere with the mines from some mining coal during the five days in the normal, natural way. And it does not affect delivery of coal by dealers."
The section of the order marked as "G" published today, has been changed to make that clear, he said. All coal mined and arriving at destination in the five day period under contract will be turned over to the state fuel administrators.

ASSURES ENOUGH COAL FOR CITY
Through the courtesy of Donald F. Stevens, superintendent of the B. & O. railroad company, Mayor Atherton has been assured that there will be coal enough to keep the city plants going. There is only sufficient coal on hand to keep the light and water plant going for five days.

YOKEL SEEKS BOLT WITH PAUL BOWSER.
Mike Yokel who was once defeated by Paul Bowser today writes the sporting editor that he would like another shot with Bowser here for the championship belt.
Yokel admits his defeat at Bowser's hands but states that since leaving Newark he has met and defeated some of the best men in the game. He wants to wrestle for the belt and offers to deposit enough money to cover the value of the belt the winner to take both money and the belt.
Bowser will wrestle Islinger at the Auditorium theater Thursday evening, Jan. 24.

SHOT THROUGH FOOT.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 17.—Private Paul Speer, Battery E, 15th field artillery, son of Rev. Grant Speer, Toledo pastor, is in the base hospital with a bullet wound in his foot. Speer is said to have been alone in the quarters of Lieut. F. C. Weed of the 74th infantry brigade staff, three miles from an artillery camp, late Tuesday, when he discharged Lieutenant Weed's revolver and was wounded. An investigation has been ordered.

TO REGISTER ALIENS.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Jan. 17.—First steps toward registration of all alien enemies in the southern district of Ohio were taken today when U. S. Marshal Michael Devaney sent written instructions to the police of 35 cities in the district.
"Every enemy alien must register," said Marshal Devaney in his communication, "regardless of whether he is registered under the alien act in restricted zones. You will see that every possible means is taken to make this communication public through the press and other ways."

OHIO PLANTS AFFECTED.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Jan. 17.—According to the statistical department of the federal industrial commission, 2,295 industrial plants will be affected by the order from Washington closing them for a period of five days. Workers numbering 783,825 will be forced to remain idle in these plants. The average daily wage of the employees is $1,352,005, or a total of $9,765,025.

NEWSIE KNEW HIS BUSINESS
Magazine Vender in Passenger Coach Commercialized Lord Northcliffe's Boosting of His Book.
The following is a story related by Lord Northcliffe in a London paper, concerning his book "At the War":
"In the United States and Canada the newboys walk through the trains selling the latest publications, and recently one of them offered his Lordship, who was on his way from New York to Chicago, a copy of his own book, 'At the War'.
"I read it," he quietly replied to the author, shaking his head.
"Oh, you have," exclaimed the boy, adding, with true Yankee ingenuity, 'And how did you like it?'
"Pretty well," said Lord Northcliffe. Then, thinking of the tedious hours spent in revisions and proofreading, he added impressively, "I read it five times."
"Gee! five times!" exclaimed the boy, and two passengers who had overheard the conversation promptly bought copies, while the enterprising newsboy moved on down the car, saying:
"At the War—new book just out; one man read it five times. Only a few copies left."—Stray Stories.

SURE GERMANY IS WINNING

Detained Officers and Seamen of German Merchant Ships Often Have Meat Twice a Day—No Alien Has to Work Unless He Pleases, and There He Is Paid—Find Variety of Ways of Entertaining Themselves.

When night falls on the camps at Hot Springs, N. C., near Asheville, where 517 officers and 1,064 seamen of German merchant ships are detained by the United States immigrant service, hooded incandescents strung on the topmost strand of formidable barbed wire fences throw their funnels of light inside the barricade, the guard being stationed in darkened, high peaked sentry boxes. Lights similarly spring up in the rooms of the four-story hotel, where the captains, mates and engineers of the big liners are quartered. No sound comes from these Teutonic cantonments—they give no more sign of life than Belgian villages left in the wake of German armies.
On the tracks barely outside the barricade trains begin to pass with silence-shattering roars, great trains of 60 and 70 cars drawn by giant moguls with flaming furnace doors—the aristocrats of freights for whom all signal lights show clear as they speed eastward to the Chesapeake ports with cargoes of grain, horses, lumber and machinery. Those within the wire know what that rushing eastward portends.
Sure Germany is winning.
But no other message do they believe, or if they do, they conceal belief. They read American newspapers, but tell the guards Germany is winning the war and that it will be over in four months. They say the Americans have never repaired the ship engines their now interned crews disabled because it cannot be done in this country. Officers of the great ship Vaterland say she has never left Hoboken docks.
Differences between officers and men have sprung up and fears of forcible encounters made it necessary to establish separate camps. The men when they realized that they were freed from enforced obedience to their officers began to show increasing evidence of resentment for past strict discipline. The officers were enraged at this inoculation with American ideas. Some of their men even showed friendliness for the Americans!
But talk does not lessen the vigilance of the fifty-two American guards working in three shifts. "They are Germans," said a hatchet-faced guard with his hand on his holster. He looked up at the nearby forested cliffs where the French Broad river emerges with crashing waters into the broadened camp valley. "And some day the casualty lists will show of the boys from this state killed in France. And then—"

Concussions on Those Cliffs.
"Then what?" he was asked. "Yes," said he, "What?" and looked again at the concealments of the cliffs overlooking the camp.
The officers have the advantage of the men in the matter of quarters though the food is practically the same. The four-story hotel was leased by the government with its equipment of private baths, steam heat and fine furniture and surroundings of tennis courts, croquet grounds and big pool of naturally hot water. The men are housed in eight one-story wooden barracks built for their use, each barrack 20 by 163 feet in size, with double-decked bunks, heated by stoves and served by a detached shower bath house 14 by 50 feet, in the rear of each barrack.
German artisans did all the work of construction, being paid by the United States at the rate of $20 a month. No alien there has to work unless he wishes, and if he does he is paid. One day all of them quit work because they resented the publication in a local newspaper that they were slow workers and had to be told how to do everything.

The Germans find a variety of ways of entertaining themselves. Some play tennis, others croquet, some bowl, some go through a semimilitary drill, and each camp has its team for playing what the guards call football. The ball is like a football, but it is not kicked. It is batted with the hand. For the men, the International Y. M. C. A. has established a clubhouse equipped with tables, reading matter, games and a moving picture outfit. An American secretary is in charge.

Work for Idle Hands.
The officers have nearly completed a miniature German village by the river side. The "houses" are tiny affairs scarcely large enough to let a couple of their busy builders squeeze in, and much ingenuity and artistic design is shown in their rustic fashioning. Tree limbs, broken bricks, stones, old carpet, flattened tin cans, all picked up in the hotel grounds, are the material used. The United States furnished nothing. Commodore Ruser, chief of the Vaterland, built one of these tiny houses and is very proud of the little brick stove which heats it. When working on their houses the officers seem to have shed their officialdom and appear as kindly, simple men. The common seamen are building a similar village.

We generally apply the silver lining theory to other people's clouds,

BASKET BALL AT THE Y. M. C. A. GYM.
Tuesday evening the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium was the scene of the first game of a series of 30 games was played. In the first game the team captained by Wittingham, swamped Hillier's team by a score of 40 to 10. The winners showed a lot of good pass work and fed Green who scored four field goals.

The second game was the fastest of the evening, being won by Ruten's five in the last minute of play. Eugene Harlow caged a field goal winning the contest by a single point. Wilson made all the field goals for Teuscher's outfit. Lineups and summaries:

Teuscher's: Green, rf. Hillier, rf. Wahli, c. Towell, c. Baker, lf. Weiss, Slaughter, lg. Automatic. Teuscher, lg. Highbarger, lf. Wilson, c. Rossell, lg. Preston, lg. Young, Brown, lg. DENISON WILL MEET WITTENBERG FRIDAY.
(Associated Press Telegram)
Granville, Jan. 17.—With the first game of the season tucked away in the win column, the Denison University basketball team will attempt to make it two games straight this Friday night when the quietest of the following week, Denison defeated Wittenberg last year at Springfield, 29 to 23. In the final conference game of the season.

THE NEWARK VS. ST. VERNON.
The Newark Friday night will be the evening set for a battle royal at the High School Gym. between Newark High and St. Vernon High of Camden. The game is quite evenly matched in strength and the outcome of the struggle will probably be in doubt up to the last few minutes of the game. Last year Newark was decisively defeated by the lads from Knox County and at present the local boys are planning a warm reception for the visitors. Don Hamilton of Notre Dame will probably officiate as referee. Between halves a class game will be staged between the teams of the Sophomore and Junior classes. To all who witness the game is promised one of the most thrilling struggles of the season. Coach Millor regards Friday night's "scrap" as the hardest game of this season's schedule and is leaving no stone unturned in his efforts to get his squad in perfect condition.

Instant Hair Stain Better Than Slow "Restorers"

Some folks would have you believe that they have discovered some new and better way of coloring the hair. They tell you that their "restorer" is the color to gray, streaked or faded hair, without staining it. No such preparation has ever been discovered. There is only one preparation that we know of that is entirely free from sulphur, lead, nitrate, mercury, zinc, aniline, coal tar products or their derivatives. That preparation is called "Brownatone." It is so easy and safe to apply that the wonder is that anyone ever uses anything else.

"Brownatone" instantly tints the hair to any shade of brown (or black) that may be desired. If the gray shows on your temples or is streaking your hair—if the ends of your hair are lighter than the balance, or if for any reason you wish to stain all or part of your hair—use "Brownatone."

A sample and a booklet will be sent you (from manufacturers only) upon receipt of 10c. All of the leading drug stores sell "Brownatone." Two sizes, 35c and $1.15. Insist on "Brownatone" at your hair-dresser's.

Prepared by The Kenton Pharmaceutical Co., 697 Coppin Bldg., Covington, Ky.

Sold and guaranteed at all leading drug and toilet counters.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 30c and 25c a box. All druggists.

Make Your Own Cough Syrup and Save Money

Better than the ready-made kind. Easily prepared at home.

The finest cough syrup that money can buy, costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations, can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 65 cents and gives you a full pint of family supply—of a most effective, pleasant tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the inflamed or swollen throat membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or influenza asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FOR LUMBAGO

Try Musterole. See How Quickly It Relieves

You just rub Musterole in briskly, and usually the pain is gone—a delicious, soothing comfort comes to take its place. Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Use it instead of mustard plaster. Will not blister.

Many doctors and nurses use Musterole and recommend it to their patients. They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Always dependable.

30 and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

Pimples, Sallow Skin

You need R. & G. Pills. They contain Podophyllum, the vegetable liver stimulant, prescribed by physicians as a substitute for calomel. R. & G. Pills, containing Podophyllum, for the liver and bowels. Purifies the blood, clears the skin. All druggists, 10c and 25c box. —Adv.

Sore Eyes, Granulated Eyelids, Eyes Inflamed by exposure to Sun, Wind and Dust quickly relieved by Murine Eye Remedy. No stinging, just Eye Comfort. At your Druggist's or by mail, 50c per bottle. For Book of the Eye Test, ask Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago.

War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps

Are Simply U. S. Government Bonds in Smaller Denominations Which Permit Everyone to Invest—Even as Little as 25c at a Time.

Are you clear in your mind as to just what the new War Savings Certificates are and just how they are handled?

The government's new small savings system consists of four steps. Beginning at the bottom, there is the Thrift Stamps. These are stamps sold by the agents of our government (the post office, every mail carrier, your bank and many retail stores) at 25c. each. Thrift Stamps are pasted on a thrift card, which is given free with the first stamp sold. Each such card has space for 16 stamps. When a thrift card is full, having 16 stamps attached to it, it may be exchanged for a War Savings Certificate Stamp in the following manner:

War Savings Certificates are issued on a sliding scale of prices governed by the month in which they are purchased.

For instance, you may buy any time in January a War Savings Certificate Stamp for 16 Thrift Stamps and 12c.; any time during February for 16 stamps and 13c.; during March for 16 stamps and 14c.; during April for 16 stamps and 15c., etc., the cost increasing 1c. each month. This 1c. per month is to allow for the interest the Certificate Stamp earns.

Thrift Stamps bear no interest, but War Savings Certificates do—4 per cent. compounded every three months.

With the first War Savings Certificate Stamp the holder receives a War Savings Certificate which has spaces for 20 War Savings Stamps. A full War Savings Certificate with 20 War Savings Stamps affixed will have a full value of $100.00, payable January 1, 1923. In other words, for a full Certificate the holder receives 4 per cent on every dollar and cent he has paid in.

Organize a Thrift Club among your friends now. Help to get everybody to open a savings account with Uncle Sam.

Start a Savings Account With Uncle Sam Today.

Every county in the United States has entered enthusiastically into the selling of War Savings and Thrift Stamps during this month in particular. If Licking county does its share, the people must buy $3600 worth of War Savings Stamps every day in 1918.

Each section is determined to make a great and flying start—and by February 1st to have a large part of their stamp quotas sold.

Licking county always ranks among the "banner" counties. Her patriotism and full-fledged Americanism has been a thing to be proud of. Licking county over-subscribed both Liberty Loans and over-subscribed the Red Cross and Y. M. C. A. funds.

That's why everyone in this community is eagerly buying War Savings Stamps this month. Thousands of loyal men and women are setting aside a certain portion of every pay envelope received during January to be invested in War Stamps. And in doing so they are helping both the nation and themselves. When you buy War Savings Stamps you are helping your government win the war, yet you are making no donation, but are making the safest and best investment the world offers today. War Savings Stamps are better than money itself, because they are non-taxable, they may be registered against loss, they pay a good rate of interest, and the government agrees to pay you back your money, plus interest, any time you want it. Start a savings account with Uncle Sam today. Thousands of Newark and Licking county people have already done so. Licking county's share for 1918 is $1,236,180. Buy your share.

"The Princess Pat."
Enchanting music and an unusually bright book and lyrics according to the critics elsewhere accounts for the immense success that is being enjoyed by the latest Victor Herbert-Henry Blossom musical comedy, "The Princess Pat," which comes to the Auditorium tonight. That interesting and humorous book and lyrics and entrancing music can be created by Blossom and Herbert respectively, is best proven by their earlier combined achievements which include "Milk and Honey," "The Prima Donna," two operas which Fritz Scherl starred and "The Red Mill," a vehicle that was valuable to Montgomery and Stern. The story of "The Princess Pat" is built around the endeavor of the Princess of Montaldeo, the Princess O'Connor, to win back the warm affection of her Italian husband who latterly has shown signs of indifference toward his beautiful Irish wife. That the witty and resourceful little Pat, with the assistance of Bob Barrow, a good-natured chap of the adventuring type, works out her designs to a happy conclusion is only accomplished after all the parties involved have experienced some adventures. The story is a love romance in which Grace Holbrook and young Tony O'Brien figures lead additional interest in the story. Of the music, and there are 20 numbers, that Mr. Herbert composed for this comedy it can be safely said that the music equals of any he has supplied to his many other successful operas or musical comedies. A few of the hits are "I'm a Flirt," "I Wish I Was a Girl," "Make Him Guess," "You're a Little World for Two," "Neapolitan Love Song," and "The Shoes of Husband Number One." As worn by Nancy Boyer, St. Anderson, Francis Schofield, Nell Moore, Nelson Riley, Edwin Stanley, Augustus, and John Reinhard, Peter MacArthur, and Wilbur Cox. A clever chorus comprised of real singers under the direction of H. H. H. complete the organization. Seats now selling.
The Honor System.
William Fox's new film drama which has already come to be known as the pride of his studio, in the latest and mightiest study of American life, "The Honor System," directed by R. A. Walsh, all of the artistic, scientific and psychological knowledge of the director is put into this picture. The story is a psychology of the modern age. The film drama, "The Honor System," of the director, is a picture of 20 thinking, moving pictures to prove it. He says, "The truly undisciplined play of the modern age is the picture on morality and religion." And Mr. Fox adds: "You are right, Mr. Fox, and in the film drama, 'The Honor System,' Mr. Walsh and all of us are not practicing a religion. We are telling the greatest human story of the age, the story of the human soul. We are offering our people a film, not a tale. But through it all there comes the truth, and the human endeavor is the living attribute to rebuilding a human soul."
The Honor System is the Auditorium attraction for tomorrow and Saturday. In almost every city that this picture has been shown, it has averaged from 25c to $1. The Auditorium prices will remain the same as for the usual picture, 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, and $1.50. The picture will be shown in the Auditorium on Monday and Saturday.
His Bride Night.
"His Bride Night," in which Frederick V. Bowers is to star this season is one of the promised theatrical good things of the year. It will be presented at the Auditorium for an engagement of one day Saturday, Jan. 19th. It has been the property of all the theaters in the larger cities. "His Bride Night" is an enormous farce in which one of two films is married together with her husband on their wedding day and convinces herself that she is a bride. The picture is a comedy in which the bride, who is a young man, pretends to be the bride, which causes many somewhat risqué complications. These have been handled so skillfully by Margaret May, whose "Twin Beds" is well remembered, that they give no offense. It was played last year as a straight farce but the management decided this year to make it a musical comedy and engaged Mr. Bowers, whose song hits have made his name famous throughout the land, to write the music as well as to play the leading role. The twins of the play will be played by the Duane twins, whose wonderful likeness and dramatic ability will fit them for the parts. Alma Foulin will sing the prima donna role. Others prominent in the cast are: Lois La Mar, Harry Lillford, Alf Bruce and Clarice Grey. A chorus of pretty girls will aid in the musical and dancing numbers.
Auditorium Notes.
"The Princess Pat" company arrived today from Cohocton, where they were greeted by another capacity house. They will be heard at the Auditorium this evening. Press reports say the company is very good.
Smiling "Doug" Fairbanks in his latest Artcraft "Reaching for the Moon" is sure to draw crowds to the Auditorium when he is shown next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. This feature has laughs and thrills many.
There are 900 scenes in "The Honor System," the Wm. Fox special to be shown at the Auditorium tomorrow and Saturday. This photoplay was directed by R. A. Walsh, who played the role of John Dill in "The Birth of a Nation" seen at the Auditorium some time ago.
The kiddies as well as grown-ups are in for another treat when the Wm. Fox special "The Babes in the Woods" is shown at the Auditorium. This is another fairy spectacle and it is said to be even better than "Jack and the Beanstalk." In the cast little Francis Carpenter and Virginia Lee Corbin are the stars.
"On Boy" with a garden of glorious girls blossoming in the springtime of life with all its joyousness and charm, comes to the Auditorium on Friday, Jan. 25th. This is the Comstock and Elliott production and is the big city show. It comes here from Dayton, O.
Mr. Fenberg was sorry to disappoint those interested in "The Retreat of the Germans" at the Battle of Arras" but so far the pictures have not reached Newark. They are lost somewhere between this city and Cleveland. They will be shown some time next week, the days being announced later.
Owing to the Victoria theater at Dayton burning down, the picture "The Girl Boy" company may possibly reach Newark and lay off one day ahead of the picture play-date which is Friday Jan. 25th.
George Walsh, popular as an athletic comedian is seen at the Auditorium as Jack Taylor in "The Honor System." Walsh is not the only star in this feature for it contains many other famous stars.
Fatty Arbuckle in his latest Arbuckle-Paramount comedy "Out West" should make a dandy added feature for the Auditorium. "Out West" is a picture of the "Fairbanks" in "Reaching for the Moon." Both are shown at the Auditorium Sunday next.
GRAND.
Vengeance and the Woman.
There is a battle royal in the third episode of the "Vengeance and the Woman," Greater Vitaphone's melodrama serial, which will be seen in the Grand theater on Saturday in which realism is attained before the camera at the expense of bones and bruises. In an outlaw saloon away back in the mountains a score of "bad men" are celebrating the return of two outlaws who have escaped from the penitentiary. At the height of the festivities, a sheriff and his posse descend on them. Rifles do all the talking, and with fists, knives, bottles, etc., and when the smoke clears away the sheriff is in possession. But the outlaw leaders have escaped by a secret underground passage. It is one of the best fighting scenes ever presented, due to the fact it was directed by William Duncan, who takes the leading role part in the serial.
Thrilling horseback riding by real cowboys, over mountain trails that seem impossible, is a feature in this episode of the "Vengeance and the Woman." The horsemen represent a sheriff's posse and they dash into the mountains at night after two outlaws who have escaped from the penitentiary.
ALHAMBRA.
"The Good For Nothing" is the unusual title of a new World-Picture comedy made which will be the attraction at the Alhambra theater tonight with Carlyle Blackwell, Muriel Ostriche and Evelyn Greely as the stars. This is the story of a young man who has been thrown out of his home by his father when a boy and who has failed to make good. He writes to his mother that it is no use, that he can't make good, and he comes back to her only to find that she has married again. He

ANNOUNCEMENT OF A CHANGE IN POLICY
THIS business was founded on the principle that a high class tailor-made suit of clothes could be produced at a given low price, providing the volume was sufficient to enable the buying of materials direct from the mills, tailoring them in large, modern shops, and selling the finished garments direct to the consumer.
That this basic idea was sound is proven by the remarkable growth and success of the business.
But, old established business methods must be changed to keep pace with these abnormal times. We are, therefore, now compelled, through sheer necessity, to suspend our traditional "No More, No Less" policy.
The present unsettled conditions in the woollen market and the uncertainties of the future make it imperative that we adjust this business to produce garments of three definite standards of quality instead of one.
On and after, Monday, January 21st, 1918, this will, therefore, be our copyright, trade-mark and only prices:

We will center our efforts, for the present, in the production of our usual high standard clothes at $21, showing the largest assortment of woollens at this price.
The $18 and $24 garments are included so that we may center our efforts upon either of these lines, as the market conditions may warrant, without going to the trouble and expense of changing all our advertising, and, to satisfy the man disposed to pay more or less than $21.
In making this announcement we are following our time honored custom of taking the public into our confidence, having implicit faith that the people appreciate our endeavors to make them the best possible clothes for the money, at all times.

LYRIC.
Pleased Audiences.
Nancy Boyer and her clever company will remain at the Lyric for the balance of the week and this is very pleasant news to the admirers of this popular little magnetic actress. Her classy little one act playlet affords a most enjoyable 25 minutes of comedy and pathos. As Priscilla, the little Quaker girl, Nancy has a delightful part, and plays it with a vim, ably assisted by Arthur Chatterdon, Henry Testa and Jane Tarr.
Every Woman Soft, Clear Skin
Every woman no matter how ordinary the features can have a clear, soft complexion and smooth white hands by using Sheeran's Cream of Quincedess. It is a particular cream for the particular purpose of keeping the face and hands soft, white and smooth. Good appearance is a personal asset—cultivate it. Price 35c.

Save Your Hair!
A SMALL BOTTLE
STOPS DANDRUFF
Every bit of Dandruff disappears
and hair stops
coming out.
Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy
and beautiful.
Thin, brittle, colorless and scrag-
gy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful
scurf.
There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, eventually producing fever-
lashed itching of the scalp, which, if
not remedied causes the hair roots
to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dander-line tonight—now—anytime—will
save your hair.
Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderline from any drug store or toll-free counter for a few cents, and after the first application your hair will come on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and
have the appearance of abundance;
but what will please you most will
be after just a few weeks' use, when
you will actually see a lot of fine,
downy hair—new hair—growing all
over the scalp.
Danderline is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow
long, strong and beautiful.

PRISONERS GET
"DOPE" FROM
COUGH REMEDY
Sheriff Finds Drug Victims Novel
Source of Supply
Many so-called "cough-cures" offered to the public are heavily loaded
with chloroform, opium, morphine, codeine and other narcotic drugs to such an extent that several prisoners
of the Suffolk County jail at Boston
got the drugs their doctors craved
by pretending to the sheriff that they had severe coughs, according to an article published not long ago in the Boston Post.
There is great danger in using
"cough cures" loaded with dope.
These dangerous habit-forming drugs do have a temporary effect on the cough but they do not have a lasting effect and soon the cough
comes back worse than ever. Doctors sound a warning against these preparations. The safe sane treatment
for a cough or cold is Father John's Medicine because it is guaranteed
free from any of these dangerous drugs or alcohol and has a record of more than sixty years' success as a family medicine in thousands of homes. Because of its wholesome purity it is safe for all the family. It soothes the throat and breathing passages, relieves the cough by getting
at the cause, drives out the impurities by means of its gentle laxative
effect and builds up renewed strength because of its wholesome
food elements.—Advertisement.

her sister, Miss Minnie McElish.
Mrs. John Kneisel is on the sick list again.
Mrs. T. P. Jones is a victim of tonsillitis, however she is better at this writing.
Miss Pay White was so unfortunate as to catch cold last week. Dr. Boz-man of Hebron was called to extricate it when he did by freeing the parts and cutting it out. Fortunately it gave her no serious trouble.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kochendorfer have their new house about family attended by a nurse. Mr. Kochendorfer is cancerous but will not move in until spring owing to the lack of water which is not to be had in early spring.
No school in Hebron last Monday
owing to the cold weather.
The funeral of Mrs. W. K. Kirkendall of Columbus who died on that day of sugar diabetes. She had been ill about one year. Her funeral took place last Friday at the home, burial
at Green Lawn.
Mr. Otto Thorp gave the community quite a scare last Saturday night by not returning home in the evening as usual. He being such a cold day it was feared he might have slipped and fallen making himself unable to reach home.
After telephoning around he was found at the home of Mr. Newton White near Union Station and was all right.
Mrs. Clarence Messick who was sick
last week is now on her feet again.
Mr. W. W. McCarty of Union Station slipped and fell last week and broke his left arm. He is getting along all right.
Mr. Will Kneisel and family attended the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Weekly, in Newark last Saturday. She was born at Fairport, N. Y.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kinney of Union
Station was called to Zanesville last Saturday. Mr. Kinney was on his way to the hospital at Zanesville.
Mr. Jay Wally attended the funeral of his grandmother in Newark Saturday.
Ruth, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Weekly is quite sick at this writing.
Mr. Clarence Lawler and family of Hebron spent Sunday at the Richard Backlund home.
Mr. Jack Hughes called at the J. R.
Black home last Monday.
We were sorry to hear of Mr. J. E. Locum of Camp Sherman has been a victim of measles. Last reports he was settling along all right.

DISLOCATED LEG.
Last night at 10:30 Mrs. W. S.
Wright of Hudson avenue had the misfortune to fall on the ice in front of the Scott building in Hudson avenue and break her left leg. She is being attended by Dr. W. C. Rank and is doing as well as could be expected.
Keep Your Eye on the Commander.
Staff Captain—Are we in action at Louis Point?
Patrol—I fancy not, sir, the brigadier 'issel' was on the position not
'arf-an'-hour back.—Sketch.
Biting Comment.
Mr. Bellows—O wife, these look like the biscuits my mother baked 20 years ago.
Mrs. Bellows (greatly delighted)
—I'm so glad.
Mr. Bellows (biting one)—And,
by George, I believe they are the same biscuits.—Chattanooga Times.

Reason and Emotion.
What a mysterious conflict that is between the reasoning power, which keeps pointing out the right road, and an ill-regulated emotional faculty, which seeks to draw one along the wrong road. Indulging the wrong habits always makes the upward path so much steeper and the downward path so much easier. How fortunate that man is whose false steps are arrested by a friendly touch of common sense disguised in a flash of satire!—Sir George Reid.

Hearts Treated Free

By Dr. Franklin Miles, the Great Specialist, Who Treats and Prevents and New Book Free.
Heart disease is dangerous, hundreds drop dead who could have been saved.
Many have been cured after doctors failed. To prove the remarkable efficacy of his new Special Personal Treatment for heart disease, short breath, pain in side, shoulder, 22 airm, oppression, irregular pulse, palpitation, smothering, puffing of nipples or dropsy, also nerve, stomach and throat symptoms, Dr. Miles will send to afflicted persons a $2.50 Free Treatment. Bad cases usually soon relieved.
These treatments are the result of 30 years' extensive research and remarkable success in treating various ailments of the heart, liver, stomach and bowels,
which often complicate each case.
Send for Astonishing Reports of Cures.
So wonderful are the results that this treatment at his expense. Afflicted persons should avail themselves of this liberal offer, for they may never have such an opportunity again. Delays are dangerous. No death comes more suddenly than that from heart disease.
Send for his Heart Book and Two-Pound Free Treatment. Describe your case. Dr. Franklin Miles, Elkhart, Ind.

Attention Old Guard.
Regular meeting, Saturday, Jan.
19, at 2 p. m. Memorial Hall. A full company desired as we have business of importance to transact.
Matt. Bausch, Capt.
Manufacturers to Meet.
For the purpose of further considering the matter of securing government orders for war materials, manufacturers will meet again on Friday evening this week in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.
Grange Installation.
Wilkins Run Grange No. 1979 will install officers on Tuesday evening, January 22. Refreshments will be served and all members are requested to be present.
Ill With Rheumatism.
Mrs. C. F. Glenn, is confined to her home in Indiana street, suffering with rheumatism.
Brother Seriously Ill.
Michael Schoenberg of Hudson avenue has been called to Cleveland by the serious illness of a brother, who has been critically ill the past couple weeks. He is also looking after property interests in the Forest City.
Home For Visit.
Harry Frad, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Nathan Frad of North Fourth street, was a caller at The Arcade, where he is engaged in the publishing business at Philadelphia, is home for a few days visit with his parents. Mr. Frad reports a woeful coal shortage in the east which seriously interferes with the operation of all industries, and states that the recent storm was one of the most severe ever experienced in the Quaker City.
A Double Contribution.
Mr. Charles E. Courtier of the Courtier Webb company at Pataskala, was a caller at The Arcade, where he has been called to Cleveland by
the serious illness of a brother, who
has been critically ill the past couple
weeks. He is also looking after property interests in the Forest City.

Save Your Hair!
A SMALL BOTTLE
STOPS DANDRUFF
Every bit of Dandruff disappears
and hair stops
coming out.
Try this! Your hair appears
glossy, abundant, wavy
and beautiful.
Thin, brittle, colorless and scrag-
gy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful
scurf.
There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its
very life, eventually producing fever-
lashed itching of the scalp, which, if
not remedied causes the hair roots
to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dander-
line tonight—now—anytime—will
save your hair.
Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderline from any drug store or
toll-free counter for a few cents, and
after the first application your hair
will come on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and
have the appearance of abundance;
but what will please you most will
be after just a few weeks' use, when
you will actually see a lot of fine,
downy hair—new hair—growing all
over the scalp.
Danderline is to the hair what fresh
showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots,
invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing
properties cause the hair to grow
long, strong and beautiful.

mount church, Jan. 19, by J. P. Murphy.
Moving pictures and explanation of the Philippine Islands.
One of the big pike, Edward Rutledge had the misfortune of his machine skidding off a six foot embankment near the Lutheran church. He was not injured and the machine was not damaged.
William Hoskinson has purchased a new Ford.
The boys in this community have been busy filling out their questionnaires.
Mrs. Charlie Kresner and daughters,
Mae and Pearl, spent the week-end with Mrs. Kresner's son, George Kres-ner.
Irene Guttridge had the misfortune to have his wagon slide off of the road with a load of coal.
Mr. Charlie Kresner took his seat on the grand jury Monday.
Austin Orr had a straw pile blow over on a number of his cattle. Fortunately none were killed.
Miss Lulu Swartz has been visiting her sister, Estelle Falk.
The young people of this neighborhood are making arrangements to at-

PRISONERS GET
"DOPE" FROM
COUGH REMEDY
Sheriff Finds Drug Victims Novel
Source of Supply
Many so-called "cough-cures" offered to the public are heavily loaded
with chloroform, opium, morphine,
codeine and other narcotic drugs to
such an extent that several prisoners
of the Suffolk County jail at Boston
got the drugs their doctors craved
by pretending to the sheriff that they
had severe coughs, according to an article published not long ago in the Boston Post.
There is great danger in using
"cough cures" loaded with dope.
These dangerous habit-forming
drugs do have a temporary effect on
the cough but they do not have a
lasting effect and soon the cough
comes back worse than ever. Doctors
sound a warning against these preparations. The safe sane treatment
for a cough or cold is Father John's
Medicine because it is guaranteed
free from any of these dangerous
drugs or alcohol and has a record of
more than sixty years' success as a family medicine in thousands of homes. Because of its wholesome
purity it is safe for all the family. It
soothes the throat and breathing passages, relieves the cough by getting
at the cause, drives out the impuri-
ties by means of its gentle laxative
effect and builds up renewed
strength because of its wholesome
food elements.—Advertisement.

REV. G. B. SCHMITT TO DELIVER LECTURE ON ORGANIZED LABOR

The local Typographical Union No. 69, expect to attend the lecture of Rev. Geo. Bohon Schmitt on Sunday evening, Jan. 20, in a body. The reverend gentleman, who is pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will speak on "Organized Labor."

Rev. Schmitt is known as an eloquent pulpit orator and a polished and interesting speaker and his address no doubt will fill the church edifice to overflowing.

The talk will be illustrated by stereoscopic views of the Printer's Home at Colorado Springs, Col., and also probably a reel entitled "A Curable Disease," and which deals with tuberculosis. Rev. Schmitt was not solicited to give the address but it was undertaken on his own volition. This should correct the error that pastors and churches are against organized labor, as some would have us believe.

While the Reverend gentleman has taken the Typographical Union as his basis of discussion, none of the other organizations should take this as an excuse for not attending. It is the intention to treat the subject in a broad manner and to make it of the most instructive nature, and to show of what great benefit labor organizations can be made to the individuals in the way of death benefits, old age pension, home for the aged and infirm, the educational features and so on.

This address will not only be for men of organized labor, but for their wives, children, sweethearts, brothers and friends. If you know of any individual opposed to labor organizations bring him along, as there will be no better opportunity to convince him of his error. The address will be strictly non-sectarian.

WILL TALK ON THE INCOME TAX LAW

Retail merchants of the city who are not already familiar with the various workings of the new income tax law will have an opportunity of learning all about it on next Monday evening, January 21. The Mercantile Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce has arranged for a special meeting of the merchants in the Chamber of Commerce rooms when Attorney Carl Norpell will address them on this subject. An opportunity will be given following Mr. Norpell's presentation, to ask questions on any particular feature which may not be thoroughly understood. Mr. Norpell has made a very careful study of the income tax law and is considered one of the best informed men on the subject in the city.

In addition, a number of other matters of importance to the retailers will be discussed including plans for "Dress-Up" week and other matters. Every member of the Mercantile Bureau and others interested in these subjects are urged to attend.

COMMENDS MEN FOR HEROISM

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Jan. 17.—Three men of the crew of the patrol boat Alcedo, sunk by a German submarine last November, have been commended for heroism by Secretary Daniels.

Patrick J. Quinn, coxswain, whose mother resides in Ireland, found ensign William F. Harrison of the naval reserve, unconscious after the explosion and carried him to safety on a life raft.

Wm. J. Bellamy, roomman, rescued Richard Rudolph, pharmacist's mate, from drowning, supporting his comrade in the water for over an hour before they were picked up. Bellamy's mother lives at 2211, 82d street, Brooklyn.

George A. Collier, fireman, stopped the engine of the allied vessel when the torpedo exploded and raised the safety valve preventing an explosion, although the water on the engine room floor had risen above his knees as he worked before seeking safety himself. He lived at Norcrossport, La.

IRON TRADE REVIEW. Cleveland, Jan. 17.—The Iron Trade Review today says: Slow progress is being made in repairing lines of iron and steel production shattered by two weeks of the worst operating conditions in the history of the industry. The past week's blizzard, sweeping over most of the principal industrial districts, has piled up the already appalling loss of tonnage previously resulting from the tangle of shipping at critical points.

The Chicago district, which has been the center for recurrent storms of unusual severity, is hard-put to overcome the worst blockade since iron and steel making became a major industry in that territory. Scarcely a wheel has been turned at Gary, South Chicago, Indiana Harbor and Joliet. These conditions virtually have been duplicated at Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Youngstown. Sheet mill output has dropped to a little more than 50 per cent. Many coke plants in the Connellsville region have been on a half-productive basis. Even the movement of the most essential war materials for war account has been barred by railroad embargoes.

The demoralizing situation for efficiency and sustained blast furnace operations has brought the menace of pig iron shortage more sharply into view. The intermittent banking of furnaces has destroyed both tonnage and quality output and the yield of off-iron has been heavy. Meager stocks in makers' hands have dwindled farther. The statement is made on competent authority that virtually not a merchant company in the country outside of the south is likely to be able to show a profit for the month of January.

CLERGYMAN MEETS WITH DIFFERENT VIEWPOINTS

The United States Food Administration for Ohio has received two letters which are herewith reproduced and which will doubtless be of interest to many persons.

"Will you come in the house a minute, please," a farmer's wife to me the other day as I was calling on my parishioners as a Methodist circuit rider on the Lakerville and Newkirk charge. The reason why I had been called in was soon made clear for the housewife handed me nine dollars, saying as she gave it to me that it was for the Red Cross Society of more than four hundred members. "There is something about the money that will interest you no doubt," she continued. "Three dollars and twenty cents is the price of a shoulder of pork which we have saved during the food saving campaign and sold. We feel so good about it, for, in a small way, it represents our part in the war."

A Letter From an Objector. Rev. C. M. McConnell—Dear Sir: "It is absolutely ridiculous and absurd to ask the women to save food. I am surprised you should attempt so ridiculous an undertaking. The women have laughed down the proposition. Do you think the people are fools?"

The man who wrote this letter was afraid to sign his name. The first letter is a very good answer to the second.

GRANVILLE

(Special to The Advocate.) Granville, Jan. 17.—Mrs. C. D. Coons opened her home on Broadway on Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a Child's Conservation League of Granville, a national organization, with headquarters at Washington, D. C. The national representative, Mrs. Effie Sheppard of Zanesville, was present, and an organization was elected, with ten charter members in attendance. A tentative constitution was adopted and officers elected as follows: President Mrs. C. D. Coons; vice president, Mrs. Freeman Chrysler; secretary, Mrs. K. H. Eschman; treasurer, Mrs. H. W. Deming; press committee, Mrs. Harry Pierce. It is hoped that all mothers of children under school age will come into this chapter, and make of it a truly representative community affair. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Freeman Chrysler.

An important afternoon and evening meeting was held by The King's Daughters in their rooms Wednesday, with the hours devoted to work for the A. F. F. W. The afternoon was spent in sewing. Supper was served at 5:30 by the social committee. The thirty-five members who remained and the evening was employed in making trench candles. Some fifty women were present at some time during the afternoon and evening sessions.

Mrs. E. J. Dorsey delightfully entertained the Winter Picnic club at the club has resolved itself into a home in West Broadway. Owing to the almost impossible condition of the country roads, none of the R. F. members were present. Dinner was served in the dining room where covers were laid for nineteen. The club has resolved itself into a knitting unit for the Red Cross, and busy fingers are turning out many sweaters, socks, helmets, etc. A Victrola program enlivened the occasion. The only out of town guest was Miss Viola Keir of Philadelphia.

Ph. Gamma Delta fraternity entertained Shepherd College friends with a handsomely appointed dinner at the chapter house Wednesday evening.

The semester recital of Denison Conservatory, which is scheduled for the evening of the 24th, in Recital Hall, will include only piano and voice numbers. The organ pupils will give their recital the week following in the Baptist church.

The members of the Baptist church will entertain in the church parlors tomorrow (Friday) afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. An attractive program has been arranged and the ladies of the congregation are cordially invited to be present. The many friends of Dr. Richard S. Colwell will be pleased to learn of his steady improvement. He is now able to go up and down stairs and his condition is in every way encouraging. Members of his family who were at home for the vacation have all returned to their respective duties. Dr. William A. Colwell, the son, to Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Rachel to Morgantown, W. Va.; Miss Elizabeth to Boston; Miss Emily to Columbus, and Miss Margaret to the Connecticut College for Women.

Music lovers should keep the evening of January 23d free for the concert in the Baptist church at which Gatti-Sellers, the celebrated organist in the Guild Hall, London, England, will play.

There are many ways in which a girl can lose her best friend. One is by marrying him.

GIVES WAR STAMPS TO CHILDREN IN HIS NEIGHBORHOOD

Mr. Eli Hull called at the office of the Licking County War Savings committee this morning and bought a number of Thrift Stamps for distribution among the children of his neighborhood. Mr. Hull attached one stamp to each Thrift card and as he presents it to a child he writes the child's name and address in the space provided for that purpose.

Mr. Hull is enthusiastic over the government's savings plan because he sees in it a great opportunity to teach the lesson of Thrift to the rising generation. In presenting these Thrift cards to the children he opens a savings account for them and thus encourages them to save their money and buy additional stamps. A few days ago Mr. Hull gave to the Methodist church a splendid house in West Newark.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Hull is almost 90 years of age he is physically and mentally vigorous, is fully alive to the issues of the day, has great faith in the future of Newark and is deeply interested in the growth and development of his town and in the success of the United States in the great war.

O. E. Ryan, prop. of grocery, 194 E. Main St., says: "I suffered at times from a lame and painful back, caused by the disordered condition of my kidneys. My kidneys did not act as they should and in various ways I knew that they needed attention. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used with such good results in the family I tried them. They soon straightened me up in good shape and regulated my kidneys."

NEW COLUMBIA RECORDS THAT WILL PROVE POPULAR. Tamaki Mura, Japanese prima donna, has sung for Columbia the exquisite "En Bel de Vedremo," from "Madame Butterfly." It was, naturally, in the role of the little Japanese bride that this singer from the land of the cherry blossoms made her greatest success in Boston opera. Vernon Stiles, now in Government service as singing instructor at Camp Devens, has made an enjoyable double record for Columbia's February offerings. It contains Ballo's beautiful love song, "Then You'll Remember Me," from "Bohemian Girl," and the equally popular Irish melody, "The Minstrel Boy," words by Tom Moore.

Fully up to the standard of Columbia dance music are "Over the Top," one-step, and "Since I First Knew You," fox-trot, played by Prince's Band. The former has the military swing and dash so much in favor just now, and introduces the popular melodies, "Dixie Volun-teers" and "Nephews of Uncle Sam."

"Oh, Come My Heart's Delight," sings Maria Barrientos, in her newest Columbia record, the solo song of impetuous Susanna, from the last act of Mozart's sparkling "Marriage of Figaro." The clear and brilliant tones of the Metropolitan soprano could scarcely be heard to better advantage than in this gem of melody from an opera which for more than one hundred and thirty years has delighted lovers of music.

A world-famous singing organization, Father Finn's Paulist Choir, is now making records for Columbia, and contributes two numbers to the newest list of Columbia offerings. These choristers, who have won honors in international competition abroad, are heard in Cherubini's "Veni Jesu ante Altaria Haec Dies," the latter the work of Father William Joseph Finn, who won high rank as a composer before he organized the boy choir, which has given him added distinction.

Good advice and good melody both are found in the new Columbia offering entitled "Don't Try to Steal the Sweetheart of a Soldier." This quite up-to-date ditty is well sung by the Sterling Trio. The same record has a lively patriotic song, "The Dixie Volunteers," in which the Peerless Quartet displays plenty of animation.

A new record of the famous quartet from "Rigoletto" is offered by Columbia. It is sung by the Boston National Grand Opera Company Quartette. The voices are well balanced, and the number receives capable rendition.

Oscar Seagle has sung two numbers for Columbia's February group of records, and his rich baritone voice is heard to splendid advantage in each. One is that masterpiece of melody and sentiment, "There's a Long, Long Trail," and the other the equally touching "Calling Me Home to You."

"Silidus Trombonus" is the appropriate name of a trombone solo played by Leo Zimmerman, with band accompaniment for Columbia. It is good brass music. So is "The Four Stars," a quartet of cornets and trombones, on the same record. Charles Harrison contributes two pleasing numbers to the Columbia February list. One is "Little Mother O' Mine," the other "God Bring You Safely to Our Arms Again." Both are sung with all the tenderness and emotion for which this young tenor is noted.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder, quoted the sentimental youth. Oh, I don't know, returned the matter-of-fact girl. Did you ever try presents?—Boston Transcript.

A PRETTY THROAT IS MOST DESIRABLE

Oldtime Recipe of Butter-milk and Cream Best Preserves Whiteness.

One of the woes of the middle-aged woman nowadays is that her throat looks old and old when she puts on a waist with a comfortable and fashionable open neck. The old-time recipe and still the best to keep youthful looks and ensure clear, creamy complexion is common everyday butter-milk and cream. In fact the simple wonderful complexion of the old country dairymaid is solely owing to its constant use and while the preparation of this mixture at home is messy and troublesome, every woman will be glad to know that she can now obtain the ready-to-use product called "Howards' Butter-milk Cream at any good drug store.

Few women realize that the throat is one of the greatest tell-tale marks of youth since it very readily shows advancing years or the marks of neglect. If they would only accept these tell-tale hints in their helpful true light they would not hesitate to either cut this article out or give Butter-milk cream a trial. T. J. Evans.—Advertisement.

How to stop dandruff and loss of hair with Resinol

Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment that will generally stop dandruff and scalp itching, and keep the hair thick, live and lustrous: At night, spread the hair apart and rub a little Resinol Ointment into the scalp gently, with the tip of the finger. Repeat this until the whole scalp has been treated. Next morning, shampoo thoroughly with Resinol Soap and hot water. Work the creamy Resinol lather well into the scalp. Rinse with gradually cooler water, the last water being cold. All druggists sell Resinol Soap and Ointment.

Outdoor Workers

are subject to exposure to all kinds of weather, and strenuous outdoor work brings their rheumatic aches. You can't afford to be laid up, so heed that first twinge of rheumatism. Use Sloan's Liniment. Clean and convenient, no need to rub, no stains, no clumsy plasters and your pain disappears.

Sprains, strains, neuralgia aches and stiff, sore muscles are quickly relieved by the application of Sloan's Liniment.

Generous size bottles at all druggists.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.
